Saving the Prince

A long time ago, a girl called Helen lived in a small village. One day she found a large egg in the forest. Then the egg cracked and a little dragon came out.

The dragon became tall. Soon, it was as tall as a mountain. Helen was very surprised. She also a little bit sacred as it was her first time to see a dragon as tall as a mountain. Then, the dragon became Helen's pet.

One day, a fairy appeared. She told Helen and the dragon to save the Prince who was at the top of a tower. Helen wondered, 'How can I rescue the Prince?' 'I can take you to the top of the tower. Just ride on me!' suggested the dragon.

Then, they started to fly to the tower. On the way, they saw a monster. The monster was as fierce as a tiger. Helen was very afraid. She thought, 'How can we eliminate the monster?' Just when she was thinking, there was a loud voice! The dragon blew out flames and the monster was burned to death. Helen was saved. She said, 'Let's fly up to the tower and save the Prince!'

After that, the dragon flew fast to the tower. It was as fast as a rocket. Soon, they have arrived at the tower. At that moment, the fairy appeared out of nowhere too. The fairy was surprised about how fast Helen and the dragon were. She asked, 'How is it like to be as fast as a rocket?' Helen answered, 'When the dragon was flying, I was very afraid. I was as timid as a mouse. Fortunately, I grasped it tightly. Otherwise, I would have fallen down! Don't talk so much; let's save the Prince first!'

When the fairy tried to save the Prince, the fairy laughed evilly, 'Ha! Ha! You stupid girl.' She used magic to blind the Prince's eyes and deafen his ears so that he couldn't see or hear for a short time. She then cast a spell to kill the dragon. Helen fell down and got killed.

Suddenly, the tower started to collapse. The fairy took the Prince back to the castle.

The fairy cast another spell to become a beautiful Princess. The Prince married her and they lived happily ever after.
